Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

Harold Amos Medical Faculty Development Program

Purpose

The Harold Amos Medical Faculty Development Program was established to increase the number of faculty from historically disadvantaged backgrounds who can achieve senior rank in academic medicine and who will encourage and foster the development of succeeding classes of such physicians. Four-year postdoctoral research awards are offered to physicians from historically disadvantaged backgrounds who are committed to developing careers in academic medicine and to serving as role models for students and faculty of similar background. The program defines the term “historically disadvantaged” to mean the challenges facing individuals because of their race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status or similar factors.

Eligibility Criteria

To be eligible to submit a brief proposal, applicants must be physicians who:

- are from historically disadvantaged backgrounds (ethnic, financial or educational);
- are citizens or permanent residents of the United States or its territories at the time of application; and
- are now completing or have completed their formal clinical training. (Preference will be given to physicians who have recently completed their formal clinical training.)

Finalists will be selected from among those submitting brief proposals and requested to submit a full proposal. Full proposals must be submitted by a university, school of medicine or research institution that is exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code with which the prospective scholar will be affiliated during the term of the fellowship.

Selection Criteria

Successful scholars must demonstrate that they:

- have excelled in their education;
- are prepared to devote four consecutive years to research;
- are committed to: 1) pursuing academic careers; 2) serving as role models for students and faculty from historically disadvantaged backgrounds; 3) improving the health status of the underserved; and/or 4) decreasing health disparities.
